

Affiliate Disclosure

Effective Date: May 17, 2026

Last Updated: May 17, 2026

This page discloses material connections relevant to content shown on SoloSuccess Academy in compliance with the U.S. Federal Trade Commission's Endorsement Guides (16 CFR Part 255) and similar consumer-protection rules in other jurisdictions.

Current Affiliate Relationships

As of the effective date above, SoloSuccess Solutions does not participate in any affiliate, referral, or revenue-share programs with third parties. All third-party tools mentioned in our courses are referenced solely because we believe they are useful for the lesson at hand.

If This Changes

If we add affiliate links or sponsored content in the future, we will: (a) update this page within 7 days; (b) clearly label any sponsored or affiliate content inline where it appears; and (c) only recommend products and services that we believe are useful for solo entrepreneurs.

How We Choose Tools to Recommend

Our course content recommends tools based on educational fit, not on commercial incentives. Tools with free tiers are prioritized to support our $0-budget student philosophy.

Your Cost is Unaffected

If we add affiliate links in the future, using them will never increase the price you pay. Any commission we receive comes out of the vendor's margin.
